

Willoughby Prayer Matters December, 2023

Another ton of hope and love on the way to Ukraine...

Daniel and our Ukrainian friend Bogdan are taking a couple of tons- literally- of humanitarian aid to our brothers and sisters in the Ukraine. Two ladies are riding with them to a funeral of a family member; two men will be joining them on the ride back, to be dropped off in Warsaw, Poland. Bogdan can't enter Ukraine because of his visa situation, so Dan will be driving that part of the trip.

Please pray for their trip- safety and protection on the road, good border crossings, good weather, that they can stay awake through the many hours on the road.

- Please pray that these efforts bring eternal fruit for the kingdom- opportunities for the churches to reach out to the lost around them, and encouragement for the believers, all of whom have been living in conditions longer and harder than we can imagine.

- Please pray that they can get back to Berlin in time for Dan to interpret at the 2 PM church service for the hearing impaired believers on Sunday.

'Tis the season...

This is a wonderful time of year to knock on doors and share the real joy of the season as we celebrate the real Reason, Immanuel!

- Please pray for us and gospel opportunities.

- Please pray for Ephrain, a man we met while we were taking a few days R&R last month. The Lord really gave Dan an open door to speak with him, and he started reading the Bible the very next day. His wife and daughter went to the good church we recommended near to where they live.

- Pray also for the Christmas concert at church tomorrow (Saturday), the health of the musicians and good conversations afterwards.

Thanks for bringing these things before the Lord with us! Our Christmas/ year-end update will follow soon!

Celebrating the Savior,
Daniel and Debbie Willoughby
